

Countercultural

or alternative local or regional associations network existing cooperatives, communities, and other groups and individuals, to support each other and help interested people join or co-create community.

Utopia Literacy Projects

may be started by student groups studying cultural alternatives in their area and elsewhere, with free materials downloadable from the website of the School of Intentioneering (SoI).

Academic Utopian Studies programs may also use instructional material created by the School of Intentioneering, and may adapt SoI material according to the noncommercial requirement of the Creative Commons license.

A convenient method for distinguishing between original School of Intentioneering material and later adapted versions is for SoI to use the noun “utopia” and academic programs to use the adjective “utopian.” No college credit is available through SoI.

Utopia Literacy Project

of the School of Intentioneering provides instructional resources via Internet, or for in-person small-group learning in Denver, Colorado through free, downloadable, PDF documents and resource referrals.

Donations are appreciated.
Make tax-deductible donations to:
www.gen-us.net
Specify recipient: School of Intentioneering or “SoI.”
GEN-US is a 501(c)(3) tax-exempt organization, EIN# 62-1793769
Email: 4thWorld@consultant.com
Text only: 303-386-2384

A. Allen Butcher
School of Intentioneering
Dry Gulch Ecovillage
4712 W 10th Ave
Denver, Colorado 80204

A fine estate is not a capitalist treasure but a natural commodity within the reach of a community of modest means.

—Oneida Circular, 1862, newsletter of the Oneida Society of Perfectionists.

Utopia Literacy Project

People in a local area having experience working in cooperatives, living in community, or supporting alternatives, connect electronically and/or in-person with others to co-create a regional commonwealth for educating others about community.

Partnership Culture

is taught as gender-equality and human-and-nature harmony, prefiguring a future sybiocene.

Educational aids include:

- Antifa Allegory and other writings;
- Myth and Mysticism for community;
- Taoist Taijitus and 2-dimensional matrices for diagramming topics;
- Consultant and resource referrals;
- Glossary and definitions from:

School of Intentioneering®
www.Intentioneers.net

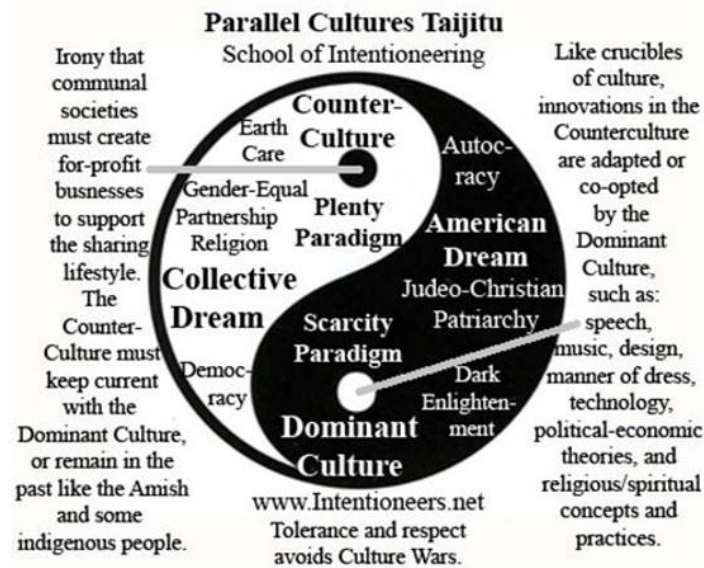

Antifa Allegory

People generally know more about the characters, places, and events of Middle-earth than they know about intentional community, so an allegory relating the people, places, and histories of real-world intentional communities to the high-fantasy of J. R. R. Tolkien's Lord of the Rings provides an entertaining way for people to learn about the range of different types of alternative lifestyles in existence and available.

The Antifa Allegory takes the theory of Dark Enlightenment, now influencing our national and state governments, which is based on the political-economic model of cameralism, and relates that theory to Tolkien's story of an evil force seeking to control all the races of Middle-earth. Cameralism is a form of pre-capitalist mercantilism developed in Prussia, formerly in northeast Europe from the 16th century to the first half of the 20th century. Cameralism is the monarchist-libertarian governing model preferred by the current President of the United States. September, 2026.

Fellowship of Intentioneers versus Dark Enlightenment

A Real-World Allegory of Good versus Evil

A. Allen Butcher • Utopia Literacy Project • School of Intentioneering®
Peace Studies + Women's Studies + Environmental Studies = Utopia Studies
Denver, Colorado • September, 2026 • 4thWorld@consultant.com • 75 pages

Download this free paper and other materials from School of Intentioneering: www.Intentioneers.net

Fellowship of Intentioneers versus Dark Enlightenment

is a 75-page paper available free as a PDF download from: www.Intentioneers.net

There are a number of other papers (total of 626 pages) also available as free PDF documents on the Intentioneers website, each with a different focus:

Four histories (222 pages) of intentional community networking organizations in North America, Europe, Israel:

- GEN—Riding-Out the Storm in the Ecovillage (59 pages);
- FEC—50 Years of Gender Partnership in the Federation of Egalitarian Communities (77pp)
- ICN/ICSA—International community networking (18 pp.);
- FIC—Fellowship to Foundation: A History of the U.S. Intentional Community Movement (68 pp.).

See also (329 pages):

- Parallel Cultures contrasts the plenty paradigm of gifting and sharing with the scarcity paradigm of taking and exchanging. (62 pp.)
- Collectivize! is a liberal Left response to neo-fascism. (36 pp)
- Too Much of a Good Thing presents the cofamily as a form of communal childcare. (34 pp.)
- Partnership Spirituality and Intentioneering Ecopartnership Culture present gender-equal and human-and-nature partnership. (78pp)

- Gifting and Sharing contrasts the economic processes of labor-gifting used in cohousing with labor-sharing used in communal societies (64 pages);
- Light and Shadows provides resources for interpersonal and group process in community (48 pages);
- Return to the Garden of Eden (7 pp.)
- And more writings to come!